

AIA 2018 Newsletter

2/7/2018

The season is off to a successful start! Congratulations to all units that have already competed this season and best of luck to all units that have been reclassified already this season.

Show Reminders

During Warm-Up times:

Please make sure in your last minute of warm-up that you start getting materials ready to leave the warm-up location. Waiting until time is up to start packing everything up puts the group behind you behind schedule, and in turn puts the show behind schedule.

Schedule Changes:

According to the official AIA rules:

"The official deadline for amending or change of registration for AIA contests will be four Fridays before the contest date. After this time there will be a penalty fee of $100. This fee must be paid to AIA by the unit's next performance date."

Music Upload

You may choose to upload your music to AIA this season. You are still REQUIRED to have back up copies in the event of technical malfunctions. Instructions are also located on the "events" tab, "2018 events" then slide your cursor to the right menu to select. You have control to change this out as needed through out the season.

Announcer Spiel Sheet

Announcers Spiel Sheet is also available on the "events" tab, "2018 events" then slide your cursor to the right menu to select. Be sure to do this for EACH unit separately. It may be changed throughout the season at your leisure.

Independent Units Insurance Information

Independent units need to UPLOAD insurance requirements to AIA prior to their first performance. This link is located on the "events" tab, "2018 events" then slide your cursor to the right menu to select.

Copyright Information

Don't forget to download and sign your copyright letter to turn in before your first performance. It also can be found on the "events" tab, "2018 events" then slide your cursor to the right menu to select.

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

For Guards this weekend, don't forget there is an "overall" judge at this week's competition and instructors are encouraged to go sit with them at the top of the stands during their unit's performance.

North Specific

Credential pick up...Percussion units that are competing this weekend...although we tried to hold your badges for you for this weekend, some of the guard directors have picked up the percussion badges. Please make sure you check with your guard Directors to see if they picked up your percussion badge(s) for you.

South Specific

A reminder to all units that the show this weekend will be hosted by Cleveland HS and will take place at Cleveland HS.
