

As part of the agreement between the Atlantic Indoor Association (AIA) and its member organizations, AIA requires all participating groups to comply with copyright laws regarding performance and/or use of arrangements of copyrighted music, visual images and other materials, as well as the use of copyrighted audio, spoken text and display of copyrighted words and images. If copyright violation is found to exist, disqualification may occur. I understand my group is responsible to secure licensing for and pay all fees associated with “Permission to Arrange.” AIA no longer requires “Permission to Arrange” to be submitted to the AIA office. All performance video recordings or webcasts of any AIA unit performance is authorized for private display only. All other rights reserved unless expressly authorized in writing by AIA. Copying, public display or any other use of the footage is strictly prohibited. Public display includes providing others footage of an AIA event and/or posting the performance online in any public form.

By my signature, I accept responsibility and am the authorized person in charge of securing appropriate rights of use for all media being used in performances of the unit listed below.
